April 30, 2015

To my patients,

I am writing to inform you that I will retire from the practice of orthopaedic surgery on July 1, 2015 after 39 years. It has been a pleasure to help you with your musculoskeletal problems, hopefully making them better and occasionally achieving an actual cure. I am confident that my colleagues at WOSM will continue to provide you with excellent orthopaedic care, and I encourage you to seek their help whenever you have a bone or joint problem.

As many of you already know, the bulk of my reconstructive joint practice will be taken over by Dr. Ben McArthur. He is an extremely able, well trained reconstructive surgeon, with considerable experience in joint replacement. I know you will be in good hands both with Dr. McArthur and with the other surgeons at WOSM.

I hope you enjoy a pleasant spring and summer.

Sincerely,

Randall J. Lewis, M.D.
